A Message from our CEO

At Leadspicker, we're automation experts who master the integration of multiple tools, enabling you to streamline workflows, eliminate manual effort, and focus on what truly matters. We understand the challenges of finding and connecting with the right people, as well as the inefficiencies of fragmented tools and repetitive tasks.

Born from our firsthand experience, we created Leadspicker to simplify not only lead generation and outreach but also the broader operational inefficiencies that hold teams back. Our solution automates tedious work, personalizes communication at scale, and delivers measurable results—all without the steep learning curve or expensive setups.

Our mission is to empower businesses with tools that feel intuitive, work efficiently, and produce meaningful results. Whether you're a sales team aiming to hit quotas, a recruiter connecting with top talent, or a founder scaling your business, Leadspicker is built for those who value time, simplicity, and success.

With gratitude,

Vlastimil Vodička
